2012 Summer Campaign

We're Excited to Reconnect With You

"We have seen the community prosper and have hopes that one day every child in Intibucá has enough to eat, an education that leads to self-empowerment and reliable, compassionate health care."

—Dr. Jeff Heck, Shoulder to Shoulder Founder, Chairman of the Board

Thanks to support from donors in the U.S., our employees and volunteers in rural Honduras make a difference every single day.

In our clinics, paid and volunteer staff continue to provide high levels of care.

Their patients often need services that cost more than a basic health packages covers. This is just one way your donations fill a critical need.

On foot, by motorcycle, or via transportation from dedicated staff in our operations department, Shoulder to Shoulder employees and volunteers do some of their most important work off-site in each of our partnering communities.

They collaborate with local leadership on community relations. They teach residents how to use water filters effectively. They help teachers implement our Yo Puedo empowerment program. They train midwives, health promoters, and even our own clinical staff to spread the best information and the safest practices for good health.

Their work is possible because you donate to our "Humanitarian Aid" fund. Thank you for all you do!

$10,000 in Matching Donations for Summer Campaign

Two committed donors have invested $5,000 each in projects we have planned for the coming months.

Could you help us secure these funds with your matching gift?

Here's why we are asking for your support.
